General section

Article 1

Who is insured?

Insured persons are

- in the single tariff, the persons named in the policy and
- in the family tariff, a maximum of two persons named and their children (including foster children and adopted children) up to the age of 21 years.

It is a precondition for cover that the insured person has their normal place of residence in Austria or South Tyrol.

Article 2

Where does the insurance cover apply?

1. The insurance cover applies worldwide.
2. Exceptions: Art. 27 and 33 shall apply only abroad, Art. 28 only in the home country. The country in which the insured person has his/her place of residence or social insurance is regarded as that person's home country. "Abroad" is deemed to be the agreed local area of application excluding the home country.

Article 3

When does the insurance cover apply? When is the contract renewed or changed?

1. Unless otherwise agreed in writing, the insurance period is regarded as one year.
2. The insurance period begins with the date of the start of cover as stated in the application, but not earlier than 0.00 of the day following the date on which the application is received by the insurer.
3. Unless otherwise stated in the policy, the insurance cover applies in respect of the first 42 days of each trip during the agreed insurance period. The insurance cover during a journey begins with the leaving of the town of residence or of second residence or of the place of regular work, and ends with the return to such place, the prior expiry of the insurance or when the maximum insured duration of travel has been attained. Journeys between the aforementioned places and field work activity are not covered by the insurance.
4. The insurance contract is concluded upon acceptance of the properly completed application form or the properly performed online application, by handover of the policy.
5. The insurer provides provisional cover as of 00.00 on the day following the day on which the application is received at the premises of the insurer (at the earliest, as of the date stated in the application). The provisional cover ends
 - 5.1. upon handover of the policy,
 - 5.2. if the application is accepted without modification and the policyholder is culpably in delay with the payment of the first premium, or
 - 5.3. if the application has not been accepted by the insurer within 14 days.If the insurance agreement is not concluded, the insurer is entitled to the proportional premium falling to the period of provisional cover.

6. The insurance agreement can be terminated by either contracting party in writing upon expiry of each insurance period, subject to the observance of a notice period of one month. If the right of termination is not used, the insurance agreement is renewed for a further year.

7. Any changes to the contractually agreed premiums (see Pt. 7.1.) or benefits (see Pt. 7.2.) are offered exclusively once these come into effect in the context of the renewal of the contract. In this case the policyholder is sent a detailed amendment offer at least two months before the renewal of the contract. The policyholder can terminate the insurance contract at any time up to the date of renewal. If no written notice of termination has been received by the insurer by the date of renewal, the policyholder is deemed to have agreed to the changes.

In the amendment offer, the insurer will expressly draw the attention of the policyholder to the changes and to the legal consequences as stated above.

- 7.1. Change in premiums: In the context of the amendment offer, as a maximum, an adjustment (upwards or downwards) of the premium may be agreed with the policyholder corresponding to the development of the 2010 consumer price index as published by the Austrian Federal Statistics Office (Statistik Austria), or if this index no longer applies any index that replaces it.

For the calculation of the extent of the change, the final index value for the month four months prior to the renewal of the contract is compared with the corresponding index value for the previous year, or in the case of the first adjustment with the final index value for the month four months prior to the start of the contract, and the percentage change determined. The premium is adjusted in accordance with this percentage change upon the renewal of the contract, as an increase or reduction in the premium, the amount being commercially rounded to a whole number of cents in each case.

If the premium is not increased for any reason in the context of an increase in the index, the right to such an increase with effect for the future is not forfeited thereby.

If the development of the consumer price index gives rise to a reduction in the premium, this adjustment is offered upon renewal of the contract in each case.

- 7.2. Change in benefits: The insurer may, by the means envisaged in Pt. 7, only agree with the policyholder upon a change in benefits if this is objectively justified in consideration of all circumstances.

In any event such an objective justification does not apply if the change of benefits offered would represent an unreasonable restriction of benefits for the policyholder or disproportionate changes to essential rights and duties in favour of the insurer.

Article 4

When does the insurance have to be taken out?

1. Insurance must be taken out before the start of the journey.
2. For journeys which have been booked before insurance has been taken out, cover for trip cancellation begins at the earliest on the 10th day following conclusion of insurance (except in cases of accident, death or act of God as described in Art. 14), but not before the agreed start of the contract.

Article 5

When does the premium have to be paid?

1. The first premium or one-off premium including insurance tax is to be paid by the policyholder within 14 days following the conclusion of the insurance contract (receipt of the policy or of a separate declaration of acceptance) and following request for payment of the premium (affirmation of the policy).
2. The subsequent premium including insurance tax is to be paid upon renewal of the insurance contract.
3. If part payments have been agreed, the respective agreed due dates for payment apply.
4. In the event of default, §§ 38 to 39a of the Austrian Insurance Contracts Act [VersVG] apply.

Article 6

This applies also in respect of economic, commercial or financial sanctions or embargos which are imposed by other countries, insofar as this is not opposed by European or Austrian legal requirements.
3. Alongside these general exclusions from insurance protection, specific exclusions are regulated in Articles 15, 24 and 29.

Article 7

What do the sums insured mean?

1. The insured amount in each case constitutes the maximum payment by the insurer for all insured events before and during an insured trip.
2. In the case of the family tariff, the insured sum in question applies jointly to all insured persons.
3. In the event of the conclusion of two or more insurances whose respective insurance periods overlap each other, the insured sum is not multiplied.

Article 8

What obligations have to be observed to maintain the insurance cover (duties)?

1. The following are defined as obligations which, if violated, will release the insurer from payment pursuant to § 6 of the Austrian Insurance Contracts Act [VersVG]:
The insured person must
 - 1.1. as far as possible avoid events insured against, keep any losses to a minimum, avoid unnecessary costs and follow any instructions given by the insurer;
 - 1.2. immediately inform the insurer about the event insured against;
 - 1.3. provide the insurer with full information about the damaging event and the amount of the loss;
 - 1.4. as far as possible contribute to the determination of the facts, truthfully issue all expedient information to the insurer, and permit any reasonable investigation into the cause and the amount of the obligation to pay, in particular empower and authorise the authorities, doctors, hospitals, social and private insurers concerned with the event insured against to issue information;
 - 1.5. ensure that compensation claims against third parties are submitted in due form and in a timely manner, and if necessary assign such claims to the insurer up to the amount of the compensation paid;

- 1.6. in the event that damage has occurred in the safekeeping of a transport company or accommodation enterprise, notify these immediately (observing the limited periods for notification) following the discovery of the damage, and demand a certificate of damage;
 - 1.7. in the event that damage has been caused by criminal acts, immediately notify the competent local security service, precisely describing the circumstances and stating the extent of the damage, and have a certificate of the notification made out;

2. In addition to these general obligations, special obligations are set out in Articles 16 and 31.

Article 9

How do declarations have to be made?

All declarations and information provided by the policyholder, the insured person, or other third parties in connection with the insurance contract require the written form in order to be valid (in writing, but without signature). The declarations and information must be received by the recipient, and must be capable of being permanently preserved by the recipient (by printing out or storage, as in the case of fax or email, but not SMS messages), and the identity of the person making the declaration must be clearly evident from the text. Written declarations and information (with signature) are of course also valid, but verbal declarations and information are invalid.

Article 10

What applies in the event of entitlements from other insurance policies (subsidiarity)?

All insurance benefits are subsidiary. Insofar as compensation can be claimed in the insured event from other private or social insurances, the latter payment obligations take precedence. The entitlements of the insured person are not affected or impaired by this. If the insured person reports the insured event to the insurer, the insurer will make advance payment and settle the claim on a conditional basis.

Article 11

When is the compensation due?

What rights apply following the event of damage?

1. The compensation payment is due upon completion of the investigations necessary in order to determine the insured event and the extent of the benefit to be paid by the insurer. However, the compensation payment becomes due irrespective thereof if the policyholder, following the expiry of two months since request for a cash payment, demands an explanation from the insurer as to why it has not yet been possible to complete the investigations, and the insurer does not comply with this demand within one month.
If the duty of payment has only been established in terms of its basis, the entitled party can demand advance payments up to the minimum amount payable by the insurer on the basis of the nature of the case.
2. Following the occurrence of the event of damage, both the insurer and the policyholder can terminate the insurance contract.
 - 2.1. Termination is permissible at any time, but only up to the end of one month from the conclusion of the negotiations concerning the compensation. The insurer must observe a notice period of one month. The policyholder may not give notice of termination in respect of a date later than the end of the current insurance period
 - 2.2. If the policyholder has asserted a compensation claim fraudulently, the insurer is entitled to terminate the insurance contract with immediate effect, following rejection of the compensation claim.

Article 12

When can insurance claims be assigned or pledged?

Insurance claims can only be assigned or pledged if they have been finally determined in terms of reason and amount.

Article 13

What law is applicable?

Austrian law applies insofar as is legally permissible.

Annex

Extract from the Austrian Insurance Contracts Act [VersVG]

§ 6. (1) If it is provided in the contract that in the event of the violation of an obligation towards the insurer which has to be fulfilled before the occurrence of the insured event, the insurer is to be released from the obligation to make payment, the agreed legal consequence does not arise if the violation is to be regarded as non-culpable. The insurer can terminate the contract without notice within one month from the time when knowledge of the violation is obtained, unless the violation is to be regarded as non-culpable. If the insurer does not terminate the contract within one month, the insurer cannot plead release from payment as agreed.

(1a) In the event of the violation of an obligation which is intended to maintain the equivalence between risk and premium upon which the insurance contract is based, the agreed release from payment also only arises in the ratio in which the agreed premium falls short of the premium as provided in the tariff in respect of the increased risk. In the event of the violation of obligations in regard to mere communications and notifications which do not have any influence on the insurer's assessment of the risk, release from payment only arises if the obligation in question has been intentionally violated.

(2) If an obligation is violated which the policyholder has to fulfil vis-à-vis the insurer in order to reduce the risk or to prevent an increase in the risk (irrespective of the applicability of 1a), the insurer cannot plead release from payment as agreed if the violation has no influence on the occurrence of the insured event, or insofar as it has not had any influence on the scope of the payment the insurer is obliged to pay.

(3) If the release from payment is agreed in respect of the event of a violation of an obligation which has to be fulfilled vis-à-vis the insurer after the occurrence of the insured event, the agreed legal consequence does not arise if the violation is not based either on malicious intent or gross negligence. If the obligation is not violated with the intention of influencing the insurer's duty to pay or of adversely affecting the determination of such circumstances as are evidently significant as far as the insurer's duty to pay is concerned, the insurer remains obliged to make payment insofar as the violation has not had any influence on either the determination of the insured event or the determination or scope of the payment the insurer is obliged to make.

(4) Any agreement pursuant to which the insurer shall be entitled to withdraw from the contract in the event of the violation of an obligation is invalid.

(5) The insurer can only derive rights from the negligent violation of an agreed obligation if the policyholder has previously received the insurance conditions or another document in which the obligation is communicated.
